A wool test is shortly to take place at Springfield, Illinois. The secretary of the State Agricultural Society is in receipt of fleeces from various parts of the State, preparatory to the test of sconring them for the purpose of ascertaining the exact amount of clean wool in each; and awarding premiums thereon. It promises to be an interesting affair to both growers and manufacturers. All fleeces should be in the hands of the secretary by the 1st of July, as the committee who are to superintend the scouring will be called together very soon thereafter.

of the Boston Board of Trade, by one of the best informed wool dealers in that city that even at a cost of twenty-four cents per pound, the importation of Mestiza wools the past season had not been renumerative; and this while American wool is quoted at fifty and fifty-five cents. If this calculation is correct, I think the American wool grower has abundant reason to be satisfied with the prospective condition of the wool market.

Another and more immediate cause affecting the price of wool in 1866, is the fact that the eastern wool houses are unusually bare, not only of foreign, the fact that the eastern wool houses are unusually bare, not only of foreign, but of entire and desirable lots of do-mestic wool. GRAPE GOSSIP.

A writer in a St. Louis paper is urging the importance of deep culture of the soil as a means of preventing the diseases which appear on the grape. In the preparation of soils for permanent vineyards, too much stress cannot be placed upon the importance of drainage and deep stirring of the soil. It costs heavily to do this; and in some places it is impracticable; but in the end it is economical to do so. Not alone are diseases of the vine and fruit prepared places.

been applied on ascale of magnitude sufficent to embrace any part of the human body, one or more limbs, or even the whole person. The gentlemen who have constructed the necessary apparatus and made the experimental application to patients are themselves application,

Although we should reasonably expect from this more efficient and extensive application of a well-tested principle many valuable results, we were not prepared for the wonderful power over disease and marked structures which the new apparatus displays.

Judging from experience, we support plays.

Judging from experience, we supposed that would be more efficiently relieved, Inflammation controlled, and states of torpor or feeble vitality aroused by the new apparatus, but, in practice, its power is not limited to such effects. It appears to be a general renovator of life, by taking off a portion of the fifteen pounds of atmospheric pressure which rest upon every square inch of the body, and thus enabling the blood to circulate with less of friction and obstruction.

When the patient is put into the pumping chamber, from which the air is partially extracted, a glowing circulation is produced, commonly producing perspiration, and such a renovating impression on the constitution as to cure most cases of ague and fever. Rheumatism yields with great facility; paralysis, neuralgia, and a bost of com-

paralysis, neuralgia, and a host of con-plaints, for which no one ever expects mechanical treatment to accompli ch, are so readily benefited or cu suits are attained by relovating the eirculation, and giving to every nerve, capillary and fibre, its due supply of arterial blood.

There is really nothing more wonderful than this in the history of medical improvements; and we should not be surprised if this mechanical or atmospheric treatment of disease should not be the history of the times with pheric treatment of disease should rank, in the history of the times with the discovery of the application of ether, chloroform, and the nitrous oxyde gas. Indeed, it promises far more valuable results, as it accomplishes some things which have been heretofore beyond the which have been heretofore beyond the power of art.

We would refer merely to one case which was promptly cured in our city by Drs. Limerick and Starkey, who have the apparatus at their office, on Jefferson, just above Third street. This apparatus was gotten up by Drs. Hadfield, Limerick and Starkey, the latter of whom are in our city, the former in Cincinnatt.

We refer to the case of Mrs. A. Drake, the celebrated queen of tragedy in America, who is enthusiastic in praise celebrated queen of tragedy in erica, who is enthusiastic in praise n agency by which she has been so ttly relieved. In consequence of a atly relieved. In consequence of a l, some years since, she has been suf-ing severely with pain and lame-ss, which bid fair to last through her fering severely with pair and lattices, so, which bid fair to last through her life. To use her own language, "For four years," says she, "I have not known what it was to be free of pain in my knee for one hour. It was like a perpetrial toothache. Frequently it has contined me to my bed for weeks at a time, with a total loss of sleep for several days and nights in succession. And when I have been able to walk, in the better conditions of this lameness, it was with difficulty that I could walk, even by dragging the lame limb after the other; and, after sitting for a while, to rise upon my feet was perfect forture, causing the cold perspiration to run down my face and my teeth to chatter. I have consulted the most eminent physicians, of different schools, of New I have consulted the most eminent physicians, of different schools, of New York, Philadelphia, Clincinnati and Louisville, but without benefit."

In addition to this lameness and pain there was a kind of tumor upon the inner portion of the knee, of about the size of a hen's egg. A lew days since the apparatus of Drs. Limerick and Starkey was applied to the limb, and after three applications on different days the pain and lameness have entrely disappeared, and, what is most days the pain and lameness have entirely disappeared, and, what is most marvelous, the tumor has entirely disappeared also!

We are not surprised at the relief of the pain by the cupping operation so powerfully applied; similar things have been done by a much less efficient apparatus, but we are astonished at the dispersion of the tumor by so simple and speedy a process. And the procession, as well as the community, will be astonished to learn that this process is as signally successful in edematous and engorged conditions of parts as in the opposite cases of anemia and atrophy. Viewed as a triumph of practical science for the benefit of humanity, we are most struck with its practical results in cases of paralysis, in which it
